

Texts for IESL Classes

The deadline for Fall, 2009 book orders is/was April 30. You are responsible for ordering texts for a class only if you are on the teaching schedule.

**For Fall, 2009, we will switch over to the new curriculum. Some of the levels have dramatically changed, so please look carefully at the Course Outlines. You can find an overview of the new program and the latest draft of the Course Outlines here:

<http://facweb.northseattle.edu/mleek/IEPOutlinesDraft6/>

☞ Texts may be chosen from the following list of approved texts. The textbook committee spent a great deal of time choosing books that we thought would best serve your level. We have also added pertinent comments for many books (particularly grammar). Please remember, however, that the responsibility for choosing and using the book for your class is yours.

☞ Some of the books are shared with another level. It is especially important that in the grammar classes you only cover the grammar listed for your level. This will require skipping around in the book. Don't cover grammar that's not listed for your level because it's probably listed for the level you share your book with!

☞ Basic book info:

G/W classes need a grammar book and a writing book.

R/V classes need a reading book and we suggest using a vocabulary book.

L/S/P or L/S/N do not need to order pronunciation books. We plan to have class sets available for you to borrow. Some of the L/S books are well rounded (Interactions, Quest, NorthStar) and some are much more focused on listening to lectures and note-taking. Please keep the objectives of your class in mind when you choose your book(s).

☞ If you need to look at an exam copy of a book, there are copies in Marcie's office (IB 3411A). NOTE: there are two bookcases in the office – one has summer books and one has fall books. Each is labeled and has a booklist on the wall above it. Some of the books are on both lists, and if I only have one copy of the book it will be in the "summer" bookcase.

☞ Keep the following in mind when you choose your texts:

- You lead the class, not your book. Please be extremely familiar with the objectives for your class and check your book to see if/how much you need to supplement.

- Publishers are listed in italics after each book title. Please check the publisher's websites for correct ISBNs. Use 13-digit ISBNs whenever possible. Be sure you are looking at the correct product!
    - The publisher's websites are (control+click to get to them):
      - ☞ Pearson Longman

  - If a text that you would like is not on the list, give it to Marcie for approval. This process involves a number of people and takes time, so please plan accordingly.
- ☞ Your Textbook Committee was Rich Hawkins, Anna Kim, Marcie Leek, and Christina Purdy.
