The College Has a New Name and a New President
Now “North Seattle College”

At its meeting March 13, 2014, the Seattle Community Colleges District Board of Trustees voted unanimously to change its name to “Seattle Colleges District” and to change the names of the colleges in the district to “North Seattle College,” “Seattle Central College,” and “South Seattle College.”

Our new name recognizes that North, like the other two district colleges, now offers bachelor of applied science (BAS) degrees, which provide the third and fourth year of college work for people who have completed a two-year technical degree. At North you can now earn a BAS in International Business or in Application Development (new!). Both are accepting applications now for fall. (See page 3 for details about the new BAS degree.)

District Chancellor Jill Wakefield, EdD, explains the name change, “We believe this will inspire prospective students to reach higher than they thought possible. With the same open admissions policies and the same low tuition, local students can start at a local college that can eventually take them all the way to a bachelor’s degree.”

Warren Brown, EdD, Appointed Next President

On March 26, 2014, Dr. Warren J. Brown, an administrator with experience at community colleges throughout Western Washington, was named the next president of North Seattle College. He will begin his responsibilities at North on July 1, 2014, replacing Interim President Mary Ellen O’Keefe, EdD.

Brown is currently executive vice president for instruction and student services at Seattle Central College and an adjunct faculty member for Seattle University’s doctoral program in educational leadership. He was selected following a national search and recommendations made by a campus-wide committee to Jill A. Wakefield, chancellor of the Seattle Colleges.

“Warren Brown has an unwavering commitment to students and their success,” Wakefield said. “He has led instruction and student services at several colleges, including in our district, and he is committed to building North Seattle College into a first-choice college for those who live and work in our city.”

Brown has more than 17 years of experience in the community college system and has served as executive vice president at Seattle Central College since 2010. Formerly, he was dean for student learning at Cascadia Community College and associate dean for academic support at Whatcom Community College. He was also an instructor at Pierce College and at Portland State University.

Brown holds a doctor of education degree in higher education – curriculum and instruction from the University of Washington. He earned his master’s degree in speech communication at Portland State University and his bachelor’s degree at the University of Washington.

North Seattle College’s brand new Health Sciences and Student Resources (HSSR) Building is ready for service.

The Grand Opening is May 15.

Come check out this beautiful space. You’ll find that the student gathering spot on the main floor of the HSSR building is spacious and inviting with comfortable furniture and lots of light. The building also houses a Human Biology and Science Center with state-of-the-art labs on the upper floor. And on the main floor to the east lives the Learning Center, consolidating the College’s tutoring programs.

A major attraction adjacent to the dramatic inner staircase on the main floor is the Grove, North’s newest food venue. On the last day of spring quarter, the old cafeteria will close, and the Grove will be fully operational.
Do you already have an IT-related associate degree or want to focus on a career in computer programming and software/application development? North Seattle College’s new Bachelor of Applied Science in Application Development (AD BAS) offers a great opportunity to complete a bachelor’s degree with great employment prospects. The new 90-credit program begins fall quarter 2014 and is accepting applications now for a first group of 25 students.

“The AD BAS is a compelling and interesting program and a reasonable option for students looking at second careers–upgrading skills, qualifying for different kinds of jobs, getting ready for the workplace,” explains Dan Jinguji, AD BAS faculty member. “Other bachelor degree programs in this area are getting more competitive, more theoretical and focused more on preparing for graduate work. North’s program offers a good alternative.”

AD BAS faculty and staff are working on articulation agreements with four-year institutions that have graduate programs in computer science or MBA programs with an information technology focus. With these agreements, AD BAS students will also have a direct pathway to graduate work.

Program Meets Industry Demand

Software developers and computer programmers with four-year degrees are currently in short supply—nationally, statewide, and, particularly, in the greater Seattle area where software publishing and IT companies make up a significant part of the economy.

Twenty-seven percent of jobs in Washington state are IT-related, and IT-related jobs account for two-thirds of the state’s job growth. [Washington Technology Industry Association, March 1, 2013.] Tech companies are seeking more workers with bachelor’s degrees. In fact, software developers and programmers are needed in every business with a large IT department and in nearly all public agencies.

Economic Modeling Specialists International (EMSI) reports that between 2013 and 2022 there will be 1,861 annual job openings for software developers and programmers—a 22 percent increase—with median wages of $47.50/hour.

Curriculum Emphasizes Web App, Mobile App and Cloud Development

Thirty credits in theory and practicum form the core of the AD BAS curriculum, which is based on Web application development, mobile application development and cloud computing software as a service—“hot” areas in the industry.

Each practicum provides real-world applications of concepts and tools. As Jinguji describes, “Faculty hope to offer prototype projects straight from industry; too large for one student to complete alone. Collaboration among a group of students will require communication and cooperation reflective of a real software workplace, creating a unique educational opportunity.”

There is also an internship or capstone project to provide more practical experience. Additional coursework includes relational database technology, software lifecycle, discrete math for computer science, and project management.

Requirements for Admissions

Associate of Applied Science (AAS) or Associate of Applied Science-Transfer (AAS-T) degrees in Information Technology-related fields offer the best preparation for the AD BAS degree. However, any two-year degree, earned with a GPA of 2.5 or better, including all IT prerequisite courses, is sufficient.

To be eligible for the program, you must have completed prerequisite courses in programming, database development/programming and Web programming/development, as well as general education.

Admission is competitive. Being able to complete outstanding prerequisites during the first quarter of the program will give you priority. At this time the program is not able to accept international students. Financial aid is available for eligible students.

The Education Fund

North’s Office of Veterans Services

North Seattle College’s Office of Veterans Services exists officially to help veterans receive their GI bill and other educational benefits. North students who are veterans and want to receive Veterans Administration educational benefits must apply through the Office of Veterans Services.

The office works hard to welcome you fully as you leave the service—fielding your questions about education, helping with housing, medical and counseling referrals, and supplying work study and job information—anything that can assist you in navigating the VA system and adjusting to civilian and student life. The office links vets to the King County Veteran’s Association, Disabled American Veterans (DAV), and the American Legion, and helps increase veteran awareness throughout the College. Greg Tessensohn, program coordinator, is a vet himself, so he understands what it’s like to move from the disciplined structure of the service into civilian society.

VA Benefits

The Post 9/11 GI Bill is available to those who qualify.

Veterans Services can help you take advantage of the 50% tuition waiver available to some Washington state veterans and a 100% tuition waiver for dependents of 100% disabled vets.

You may be eligible for Worker Retraining assistance if you’ve been honorably discharged within the last two years.

The office can also help you get a copy of discharge papers.

For more information about veterans services, please call Greg Tessensohn at (206) 934-3699 or visit northseattle.edu/office-veterans-services.

Steps to Enroll

Step 1: Apply

New students can apply online via the Web Admissions Center at northseattle.edu/admissions/steps. It’s simple, fast and free!

Students are welcome to come to the Admissions, Registration, Records and Credentials (ARRC) Office on campus for great in-person attention and assistance in using our computer kiosk stations available in the admissions area located on the second floor of the College Center Building.

See our online Parking and Transportation pages for campus and visitor parking information.

For applicants who are under the age of 18 years old, after applying for admissions, visit the Undergraduate page at northseattle.edu/admissions/undergraduate-policies-application.

For International Students, apply through the International Programs office. Online information: ip.northseattle.edu.

Current and former students do not need to reapply for admissions. Please visit northseattle.edu/current-and-former-students for details.

Student Identification Number (SID)

Your SID will be assigned to you upon admission to the College. This number will be used to register for classes, access grades or schedules, pay tuition and for all other administrative purposes.

Common Student ID Opt-in Process (Washington State Community and Technical Colleges only):

Upon admission to a college, students may opt to have the same student ID assigned that was assigned at a previously attended college when they provide a correct social security number.

Personal Identification Number (PIN)

All students have a Personal Identification Number (PIN). The PIN is used for all inquiry functions and for quarterly registration purposes. Your temporary PIN is your birth date (MMDDYY). Example: If your birthday is March 18, 1955, enter 031855. For security reasons, you are encouraged to change your temporary PIN. If you have misplaced your SID, obtain an SID Request Form online. Go to northseattle.edu/current-and-former-students. You may also request your SID at the ARRC front counter with your picture ID.

About Residency Status

A resident is a U.S. citizen or permanent resident who (1) is financially independent; (2) has established a domicile in the state of Washington for other than educational purposes for a period of at least one full year prior to the beginning date of the quarter; or (3) is a dependent student whose parents or legal guardians have maintained a domicile in the state of Washington for at least one full year prior to the beginning date of the quarter; and (4) who further meets and complies with all applicable requirements of WAC 250-18030 and 250-18035.

View our Web site at northseattle.edu/tuition-fees/determine-residency-status for more detail.

Individuals who are not permanent residents or U.S. citizens may qualify for resident tuition if they have either: (1) resided in Washington state for the three years immediately prior to receiving a high school diploma, and completed the full senior year at a Washington high school, or (2) completed the equivalent of a high school diploma and resided in Washington state for three years immediately before receiving the equivalent of a diploma, and (3) will file an application to become a permanent resident of the United States as soon as they become eligible. For either option, students must continuously have resided in Washington state since earning the high school diploma or its equivalent. Additional criteria may be required.

Step 2: Plan Funding

Estimate your tuition and fees by visiting the Tuition and Fees pages of our Web site, northseattle.edu. Tuition is determined by the number of courses you take and your residency status. Fees are determined by the number and type of courses you take. These fees do not include classroom expenses like art supplies, books or course-specific equipment that may be required by the instructor.

The average student will take 10-18 credits per quarter. Full-time is considered 12 credits. An advisor can help you estimate your typical tuition and fee payments. See the Tuition and Fees pages online for full details on tuition and fee charges. Taking over 18 credits requires permission from the Advising Office.

Applying early for financial aid increases your chances of receiving an award. The financial aid priority deadline was March 15, 2013, for 2013-2014. However, funding may be available to students throughout the year. Visit or call the Financial Aid Office for information.

To explore eligibility for worker retraining support as a displaced worker, contact the Workforce Education Office at (206) 934-3787 or search the Web for information about scholarships not offered through the school.

Explore deferred tuition payment options at northseattle.edu/tuition-fees/deferred-tuition-payment-system.

Emergency Tuition/Book Assistance

Emergency tuition/book assistance is available for returning, currently enrolled students who have completed at least one quarter at North. In addition, funds are available for tuition, textbooks or personal assistance. This is not a scholarship; recipients must have the ability to repay the funds by the end of the quarter. Please email us at NSCCEntryServices@seattlecolleges.edu for an appointment.

About Financial Aid

If you need help with financing your college education, you are encouraged to apply for financial aid through the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). The application process can be a lengthy one, and you should allow a minimum of six weeks to complete the process. Applying early increases your chances of maximum funding. You may also search the Internet for information about scholarships that are offered through the College and other organizations. For more detailed information, please pick up a Financial Aid Guide at the North Financial Aid Office or go to the Financial Aid Web page at northseattle.edu/financial-aid. In addition, the financial aid Web pages have information on our deadlines, satisfactory academic progress standards, types of aid available and eligibility requirements.

Agency Funded Accounts

If your employer or another agency will be paying for your tuition, you must contact the Financial Aid Office before registering. For additional information on applying for student financial aid, please see the Financial Aid Web site at northseattle.edu/financial-aid.

Step 3: Placement for Classes

Most students who are entering into a degree, certificate or college transfer program are required to take English and math placement tests to evaluate English and math skills. Testing is also required for all other students who wish to enroll in English or math courses or in other courses that list placement test scores as a prerequisite. After paying the fee, take your receipt to the Testing Center during drop-in placement hours to test. To find the current drop-in hours calendar, visit the Testing Center Web pages at northseattle.edu/testing. Allow 3-4 hours to test. Bring $25 for the locker. Please bring valid photo identification such as a passport, driver’s license, ID card or previous school ID card.

Exceptions: If you have already completed placement testing or college-level English or math courses at another institution, you may not need to test. Bring unofficial transcripts or placement test results to a New Student Orientation or to Advising for review.

To help prepare for the placement test, attend a free COMPASS test prep workshop. Workshops are open to all current and incoming students. Visit beforeyoutest.org for the workshop schedule and for other preparation tools and resources.

Step 4: Register

START New Student Orientation

START Orientation is required for degree-seeking students with no prior college experience. The orientation is designed to introduce the broad range of programs and resources available to students. Students may also register for classes and talk with an advisor. Please bring a copy of your English and math placement test scores or a college transcript if you have attended college before. START orientations are held each quarter, and students can sign-up to attend here: northseattle.edu/advising/new-student-orientation-signup

If you are unable to attend START in person, please complete the online orientation: northseattle.edu/advising/online-orientation

Note: Some programs, such as Early Childhood Education, Health/Medical, and Watch Technology have program advising and orientation. Students pursuing these programs should contact the department directly for more information.

Register for Classes

To help you decide which courses to take, consult the online course schedule for the most accurate and up-to-date version of the quarterly schedule at northseattle.edu/schedule. You can register for classes via the Web at northseattle.edu/online-services/online-registration-tools. Web registration is available seven days a week from 5:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.

With your Student Identification Number (SID), Personal Identification Number (PIN) and your class item numbers selected from the course schedule, you are ready to register.

Online registration

Avoid waiting in line. Register/Add/Drop Classes online at sccdweb.sccd.ctc.edu/seanor/webreg/waci221.html.

In-Person Registration

Get personal assistance at the Admissions/Registration office on the second floor of the College Center building or use the registration kiosks available there to register online. We recommend you view North’s Admissions/Registration policies online before you register for classes.

Find a link to Registration Tips and Terms on the Web at northseattle.edu/online-services/online-registration-tools.

Step 5: Pay and Prepare

Your registration is not complete until tuition and fees have been paid in full or you have enrolled in the FACTS automatic (deferred) payment plan. Please note: Signing up for the deferred payment system takes 24-48 hours to prevent the drop for non-payment process from initiating. To avoid being dropped if your payment deadline is within this timeframe, contact the Cashier’s Office at (206) 934-3627.

How to Pay

You can pay your tuition and fees by credit card online or by deferred payment plan without coming to campus or in person, at the Cashier’s Office. The Cashier’s Office is located on the second floor of the College Center Building. Visit northseattle.edu/tuition-fees#2 for payment option information. In-person payments can be made by cash, check, American Express, VISA, MasterCard, Discover, debit card or financial aid award. Checks must be written for the exact amount and must be drawn on banks located in the United States. A handling fee of $30.75 is charged for any returned checks. Students will be automatically dropped from classes if checks written for tuition are returned for insufficient funds. Students who are dropped for insufficient funds and have re-registered must pay tuition and fees in cash or by credit card.

If your tuition is being paid by an outside agency, such as your employer or a community-based organization, to avoid being dropped for non-payment, please submit the payment authorization to the Financial Aid Office upon registering. Scholarship checks must also be delivered to the Cashier’s Office for processing.

Automatic Payment Plan

The deferred payment service is available through our partner nelnet Business Solutions (formerly known as FACTS). This enables you to make automated monthly tuition payments from a bank account, debit card or credit card. You must have a minimum of $100 in tuition costs to enroll. There are no interest charges. The automatic payment information plan page is located at northseattle.edu/tuition-fees/deferred-tuition-payment-system and has detailed information about the system and a schedule of due dates. You must sign-up for each quarter separately. Please note: it may take 24-48 hours for the FACTS account to be updated on the College’s end. Please plan for this delay when calculating your tuition due date.

The monthly installment plan is not available to international students.

Please Note: If you are paying through a deferred payment plan and fail to make a scheduled payment, you will not be dropped for non-payment. However, a hold will be placed on your North student account and that hold will remain until your FACTS account is made current (i.e., you have caught up with your scheduled payments). Steps to Enroll
Registration

Student ID Card
All new students registering for credit classes are required to purchase a photo ID card. There is a charge of $5 for this card, payable at the Cashier’s Office. The ID card, along with a Wellness Center sticker, will also be your library and Wellness Center building access card and may be used to check out books, access the computer labs and for other student activities. The card is good for as long as you are a student. If you lose the card or it is stolen, damaged or mutilated, there will be a $5 replacement fee. The photo ID and cashier windows are located on the second floor of the College Center Building. Please bring valid photo identification such as a passport, driver’s license, ID card or previous school ID card.

Student Right to Know
Students and other interested parties can access statistics, reports and information on completion and transfer rates, student confidentiality issues, and other general student statistics at northseattle.edu/about-north/college-statistics. These reports are published in compliance with the Federal Student Right to Know and Campus Security Act of 1990, the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, and the Drug-free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989.

A copy of the North Annual Security Report is available online, at ope.ed.gov/security/getoneinstitutiondata.aspx (by typing Seattle College under Name of Institution, then selecting North campus). You may obtain a copy of the report by visiting the North Security Office in the College Center Building or downloading a copy under related info at northseattle.edu/safety. This report includes statistics for the previous three years concerning reported crimes that occurred on-campus, in certain off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by North, and on public property within or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus. Visit northseattle.edu/safety for policies and procedures related to campus security.

The North Seattle College community believes that everyone should have access to the benefits of higher education. North’s Financial Aid Office strives to make financing that education workable for every student.

At the Financial Aid Office you’ll find information on student aid eligibility, types of aid available, and policies/guidelines for federal, state and institutional programs. Financial Aid staff can assist you in completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and answer your questions. At North you have access to all federal and state financial aid programs.

Types of Aid

Most grants are need-based and do not have to be repaid as long as students complete their courses and make satisfactory academic progress.

- Federal Grants—Federal Pell Grants and Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants for low-income undergrads who have not already earned a bachelor’s or professional degree
- Washington State Need Grants, helping the lowest income undergrads pursue degrees, develop skills or retrain for a new career
- North Grants and Tuition Waivers for Washington residents with documented financial need
- Work Study (federal and state) Programs
- Federal Loan Programs: Federal Direct Loans and Perkins Loans must be paid back; therefore, please consider other options to pay for college first. Complete Federal Direct Loan Program details, including an overview, tools, resources and managing repayment, are available online at studentloans.gov.

Scholarships

Every scholarship has its own set of criteria for eligibility. There are merit-based scholarships (for excellence in specific areas) and need-based scholarships (based on your and your family’s financial situation).

- Education Fund Scholarships. These North scholarships help remove barriers to enrollment.
- Local Assistance Scholarships through other organizations and foundations
- International Student Scholarships

Veteran’s Assistance

Eligible veterans may receive a partial tuition waiver, work study or money for educational expenses.

Workforce Education

The Workforce Education Office can help if you are looking for career training and need financial assistance. Workforce Education may also assist you as a student enrolled in English as Second Language (ESL) classes or if you are completing your GED® or high school diploma. Workforce Education’s various tuition assistance programs are designed to help you access the education you need to achieve your personal and professional goals. See if you qualify at startnextquarter.org

Emergency Assistance

Emergency assistance is a Student Success and Retention Program, intended to support and motivate students to complete their educational goals at North Seattle College. Emergency assistance provides for temporary funding of tuition, textbooks or personal expenses.

Automatic Payment Plan

In addition, North offers an automatic payment plan, which allows for installment tuition payment over time, without additional interest owed to the college.

See northseattle.edu/tuition-fees/deferred-tuition-payment-system or call (800) 609-8056.

The Seattle Colleges Card

The next step in financial aid

HigherOne Quick Info for Financial Aid Refunds

Seattle Colleges are now using the Seattle Colleges Card to distribute Financial Aid refunds to our students.

It’s Easy to Get Started:
1) Look for the Bright Green Envelope
2) Visit www.SeattleCollegesCard.com
3) Login and activate your account
4) Select your refund preference
Watch the educational videos on the North Financial Aid Web page to find information on “How to Use Your HigherOne Account Wisely,” “Activating Your Account,” and “Selecting Your Refund Preference”-- northseattle.edu/financial-aid/new-seattlecolleges-card.
Transfer Rights and Responsibilities

Student Rights and Responsibilities

1. Students have the right to clear, accurate, and current information about their transfer admission requirements, transfer admission deadlines, degree requirements, and transfer policies that include course equivalencies.

2. Transfer and freshman-entry students have the right to expect comparable standards for regular admission to programs and comparable program requirements.

3. Students have the right to seek clarification regarding their transfer evaluation and may request the reconsideration of any aspect of that evaluation. In response, the college will follow established practices and processes for reviewing its transfer credit decisions.

4. Students who encounter other transfer difficulties have the right to seek resolution. Each institution will have a defined process for resolution that is published and readily available to students.

5. Students have the responsibility to complete all materials required for admission and to submit the application on or before the published deadlines.

6. Students have the responsibility to plan their courses of study by referring to the specific published degree requirements of the college or academic program in which they intend to earn a bachelor’s degree.

7. When a student changes a major or degree program, the student assumes full responsibility for meeting the new requirements.

College and University Rights and Responsibilities

1. Colleges and universities have the right and authority to determine program requirements and course offerings in accordance with their institutional missions.

2. Colleges and universities have the responsibility to communicate and publish their requirements and course offerings to students and the public, including information about student transfer rights and responsibilities.

3. Colleges and universities have the responsibility to communicate their admission and transfer related decision to students in writing (electronic or paper).

Essential Learning Outcomes

North Seattle College serves a diverse student population with a wide variety of educational backgrounds and goals. As a learning community, we foster and promote the following outcomes:

Intellectual & Practical Skills, including

- critical thinking and problem solving
- communication and self-expression
- collaboration: group and team work
- information literacy
- quantitative reasoning
- technological proficiency

Personal & Social Responsibility, including

- civic engagement: local, global and environmental
- intercultural knowledge and competence
- ethical awareness and personal integrity
- lifelong learning and personal well-being

Integrative & Applied Learning

- Synthesis and application of knowledge, skills and responsibilities to new settings and problems

2013-2014 State Support of Higher Education Students

Through Opportunity Pathways, Washington state provides a variety of financial aid programs to help students and their families pay for college. Pursuant to RCW 28B.15.0681, the approximate level of state support received by students is being provided to the colleges for your use.

Academic Courses

In eLearning courses at North Seattle College, you can earn your AA degree, work toward a certificate program, or enhance your work skills – all online. North’s online courses require few (if any) on-campus meetings. These courses incorporate digital technologies and are accessible from anywhere with an Internet connection.

Explore the North Blend option! Are you more comfortable in the classroom but can’t make it to campus every day? Try our North Blend of hybrid courses specially designed to combine the ingredients of successful active learning classroom activities with the convenience of fewer campus visits.

North offers over 100 different eLearning courses each quarter, covering the same material as on-campus classes. Visit our Web site at www.virtualcollege.org for more information.

Why Choose North’s eLearning Program:

- North eLearning students have high completion rates, equivalent to students in on-campus classes.
- Student-to-teacher ratios match on-campus classes.
- eLearning course credits are transferable and appear on transcripts, just like any other class.

What you need to know to participate in eLearning

Classes are rigorous and require that you have good time management skills to stay on track with course due dates. With very few exceptions, eLearning classes begin and end on the same quarterly schedule as all other North classes.

Types of eLearning Classes

Fully Online Classes do not require campus visits. Scheduled on-campus exams conducted by the course instructor may also be proctored from off-campus (after instructor approval).

Hybrid Classes may require only a few on-campus meetings in a quarter, which are sometimes scheduled on weekends. Other, primarily on-campus hybrid classes may require two classroom meetings each week, with the other “classwork” completed online. The distribution of online and on-campus hybrid courses depends on the nature of the course (for example; courses requiring lab work need regular on-campus meetings).

Technical Requirements

In order to take an online class, you will need access to the Internet. Our online courses utilize a variety of digital technologies. Visit our Web site for technology tutorials and computer requirements at www.virtualcollege.org/resource.

Fees

eLearning classes charge the same basic tuition as other credit classes. Most online classes require an eLearning support (UD) fee of $7.00 per credit for proprietary software licenses and technical assistance on our campus. Please see the Course Fee Definitions in the online schedule for other fees that may be tied to a few specific online courses (northseattle.edu/schedule).

Orientation to Online Learning

Some online classes include an optional orientation meeting where you can meet your instructor and get started in the course. Please read our online orientation information at www.virtualcollege.org and click the link, “Click here for an orientation to-eLearning” at the top of the page. We also offer in-person assistance at North’s eLearning Support Center (“NeLSC”), by email and by phone. See full contact information below.

How to Start Your Online Class

Once you have registered, proceed to www.virtualcollege.org. Click on “Registered Students” and follow the step-by-step instructions and course details for the upcoming quarter.

We Are Here to Help

North’s eLearning Support staff can facilitate contact with instructors, help with class access, provide logistical information and contribute technical assistance.

North’s Integrated Studies Courses – An Innovative Way to Learn

Integrated Studies courses change the way students think about teaching and learning. Linked courses share the same topic in their stand-alone classes, and students explore how two disciplines intersect. In coordinated courses, two faculty members use multiple disciplines to explore a central issue. “Having two instructors approach class content from the perspective of different disciplines...showed us that there is always more than one way to see things,” says student Richard Meyer.

Working closely with peers and instructors, students create their own learning community. They find many meanings in the material and share the rich connections they’re making. Because the learning community values every voice, insight and question, students learn as much from peers as they do from instructors. Graduate Heike Rodriguez says, “I’ve come to see learning as something we do in community, where everyone’s work is needed.” Instructors keep learning, too. As a result, students create deep networks of support and feel a new sense of ownership of their education.

Summer’s new coordinated course, “Embodiments,” focuses on indigenous peoples, exploring world cultures through ethnographic and cinematic lenses. Anthropology and film studies converge in reading, research and writing. In the fall students have two choices: In “Beginnings,” students consider their own cultural and educational foundations and investigate how cultural identity shapes experiences and opportunities. “Wicked Witches, Heroes and Femme Fatales” brings together world literature and media studies to examine how mythology and archetypes function historically and currently.

Jo Soozzafava
International Student Advisor
At North we are all family.
Students thrive here. I am happy to help - there is nothing better than seeing students learn to advocate for themselves and meet their goals.

Jim Armstrong
Evening Support Services Manager
I like the calm feeling of North in the evening. I enjoy seeing the look on veterans’ faces as they start on a new path after giving so much.
Dawn Kinder
Director, Workforce Education

It is exciting and inspiring to see our students take the leap from where they are when we meet them to where they will be as college students and, eventually, alumni.

Parent Education for You –
Early Childhood Education for Your Child
Enroll your child in an excellent early learning program and learn about child behavior, stages of development, and child rearing techniques. Openings are available for classes for 2014-2015.
North’s Cooperative Preschools are located on campus and in North Seattle neighborhoods. Infants through five-year-olds enroll in a preschool class, and parents enroll in a parent education class, taught by a North instructor. Parents gain parenting skills and join a family support community. Preschools are run by parent-led boards that work in association with the preschool teacher and North faculty. Parents participate one day/week in the classroom.
Check out additional Parent Education class offerings including online FAM 180 Special Topics for Parent of Young Children and FAM 181 Star Parenting. See the online schedule, call (206) 934-3783 or visit coops.northseattle.edu.

Choosing from North’s Excellent Nursing Programs
North’s programs have an excellent reputation. Choose to get a certificate as a licensed practical nurse (LPN). Then continue on in the LPN to RN Ladder program to complete the Associate of Applied Science Transfer degree (AAS-T) as a registered nurse (RN).
Movement from the LPN program into the LPN to RN ladder program is seamless. This means you can work as an LPN during your second year, financing your education while getting valuable experience in the field. With your degree from North, you’ll be BSN-ready and can take advantage of articulation agreements to enroll in local bachelor’s programs.
LPN students consistently have a 100% pass rate, and RN students have had between 94% and 100% pass rate on national licensing exams for the past five years.
Both programs are approved by the Washington State Nursing Commission. The LPN to RN Ladder program has been re-accredited by the Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing (ACEN) through 2015.

Exposing the Bad Guys!

Gain skills to uncover financial abuses in North's Fraud Examination and Forensic Accounting Summer Institute 2014.

Tales of bribery, embezzlement, crooked contracts and misuse of campaign funds are all over the news. Now you can learn the skills needed to expose those abuses.

Eight-week course / 15-credit online experience starting June 30

Curriculum
Who perpetrates fraud, what motivates them, and how do you identify potential fraudsters? Find out the answers and explore methods to prevent and reduce fraud. Learn about investigation methods, evidence collection and interviewing techniques.

Likely Participants
- Students with an undergraduate degree in business/accounting
- Individuals with experience in law enforcement, banking, financial securities regulation, retail, insurance or accounting

North partners with the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners (ACFE), the national organization well-known for certifying professionals in fraud detection.

Graduating from High School?
Congratulations!
Next Stop – North Seattle College

I love North. Smaller classes, personal assistance and support from staff and faculty are the reasons I’ve done so well.

After all your dedicated work to earn your high school diploma, you deserve a great place to continue your education and realize your dreams. Whether you are planning on specific career training or your first years of bachelor degree study, North Seattle College has what you are looking for.

- A supportive learning community with free tutoring, personal assistance and small faculty/student ratios
- Rigor where it counts – Universities judge transfer applicants by the rigor of their core courses.
- Lots of choices – Start a bachelor’s degree (get ready for transfer and take advantage of Direct Transfer Agreements), train for a range of careers or prepare for a Bachelor of Applied Science degree (and continue your education right on campus)
- A diverse and vibrant student body where you can make friends from across the globe
- Terrific value – On average, an education at North costs less than $1300 a quarter. That’s 66 percent less than a public university!

If transfer to a four-year school is your goal, check out these facts about North Seattle College:

- Top rated engineer transfer in Washington (UW recognized us as in the top 2)
- Top rated computer science transfer in Washington (UW recognized us as #1 this year)
- State-of-the-art nursing labs in the new Health Sciences and Student Resources (HSSR) Building
- Largest square footage of dedicated tutoring space for a Puget Sound area college (also housed in the HSSR)
- Dedicated transfer advisors to assist you with the design of your transfer plans

The person who started at North Seattle College is not the person graduating. I’ve become confident in myself, have a 3.8 GPA, and have been accepted into the Foster School of Business at the UW. Thank you, North Seattle!

The very act of sitting on the unstable surface of a stability ball challenges our coordination. Combining Pilates work with the challenge of the ball requires muscles in the torso to stretch and strengthen. The results? An efficient and dynamic full body workout that will tone you, energize you and improve your posture and balance. Please bring a Pilates mat, stability ball and light hand weights (1 to 5 pounds).

Entertainment

Film Noir Goes to Prison NEW!
Noe
Prison films were most popular in the 1930s when dozens of movies about men serving hard time were churned out. The films were an allegory for the bigger problems in society. We will watch and study films from the noir era of the 40s and 50s giving equal time to men and women behind bars. Films include Brute Force, Caged and more. Your warden for summer quarter will be Jon Noe, film noir programmer for The Historic Everett Theatre.

Schlock Cinema: Monsters Are Wonderful Companions! NEW!
Hopkins
This quarter we will explore and analyze Hollywood’s B-Movie preoccupation with misunderstood, shy people who try to make society better but utterly fail to do so and become ravenous, hostile monsters. In keeping with this theme, we will watch: “The Cyclops” (who can deal with a gigantic Cyclops?), “The Four Skulls of Jonathan Drake” (headhunters often have difficulty making friends), “The Mummy’s Ghost” (be careful of what they could do to your lawn), and “Monster In the Classroom” (haven’t we all run into them?). Join us for fun viewing and stimulating after-movie analysis!

How to Find Your Way Around Campus

1. Determine your building abbreviation:
   - CC  College Center Building
   - IB  Instructional Building
   - LB  Library
   - AS  Arts & Sciences Building
   - HS  Health Sciences & Student Resources Building
   - WC  Wellness Center
   - ED  Dr. Peter C. Ku Education Center
   - CH  Childcare
   - OC  Opportunity Center

2. Refer to the map to find which building your classroom will be located in. Next, look at the four numbers.
   - The first number is the level. (There are three levels.)
   - The second number is the avenue. (There are six avenues.)
   - The third and fourth numbers are room numbers. The lowest number on campus is “01” at the north end of the campus. The highest number is “61” at the south end of campus. If a letter follows the room number, it indicates that the room is an inside classroom, between avenues.

SAMPLE DOOR PLATE

North Seattle College - 9600 College Way N. - Seattle, WA 98103
Check out the mural, in progress on North Seattle College’s campus during spring quarter. The student artists are enrolled in ART 204: Mural Art, a new course taught by Kelda Martensen. Heather Brammeier of Peoria, Illinois, submitted the winning design for the NSC Mural Project.

Heather describes her design: “...Licton Springs and the wetlands were the primary inspiration for the imagery. Water is the connecting theme, and wetland grasses and evergreen trees are a recurring motif. Using the decorative arts and architectural forms, I incorporated hints of various cultures. My personal approach to painting is biomorphic abstraction, which is based on natural forms. To unify the image, arcs and rounded forms connect the panels visually. Though abstract, the design suggests strength, togetherness, interconnectedness and intellectual curiosity.”

Watch the mural develop via a live webcam. Check the art department home page for the link. For questions about the project, email kelda.martensen@seattlecolleges.edu.

The Workforce Education Office can help if you are looking for career training and need financial assistance. The office may also assist you as a student enrolled in English as a Second Language (ESL) classes or if you are completing your GED or high school diploma.

Eligible students may receive funding for tuition and fees and help with textbooks, required supplies, transportation and other expenses.
