

David graduated from the Cleveland Institute of Art (B.F.A.), Kent State University (M.F.A.), and Cleveland State University (K-12 Art Teaching Certificate). In the past, he has spent almost seven years exhibiting his artwork in Japan and teaching English as a Second Language in Japan (Yonago, Matsue, Okazaki, Fukuoka, Osaka) as a private tutor, English Language School teacher, juku school teacher and College English teacher. In addition David has worked in America as a private English conversation tutor to students from a wide variety of different countries. David received a Monbukagakusho Scholarship from the Japanese Government, and exhibited his work at The Fukuoka Museum of Art, and Osaka Art Collage, and many other places in Japan. While primarily a fine artist, he has done a number of book illustrations including book covers.
