

Internships

North Seattle College (NSC) Nanotechnology Interns provide valuable hands-on assistance for industry and academic researchers. Duties may include making progress on a core research focus, conducting analysis of a prototype, or finishing auxiliary projects. Nanotechnology students complete their internships at the end of their nanotechnology coursework, ensuring that they begin internships with quality hands-on experience with nano and micro instrumentation. In addition, NSC Nanotechnology Students have access to the NSC Nanotechnology Lab User Facility.

Contact

Kristine Schroeder, Director (Interim)
(206) 934-7006
shine@northseattle.edu

www.seattlenano.org
North Seattle College
9600 College Way N. Seattle, WA 98103

NORTH SEATTLE COLLEGE
One of the Seattle Colleges

This material is based upon work supported by the National Science Foundation under Grant Number 1204279.